Carnegie Forum Dedication
September 5, 1989

CITY OF LODI
CALIFORNIA

Carnegie Forum Dedication - September 5, 1989

Program

Welcome	Mayor John R. (Randy) Snider
Blessing of the Building	Reverend Robert W. Mattheis St. Paul's American Lutheran Church
Comments:
Ribbon Cutting:
Tour and Reception	Carnegie Forum Building & Grounds

Lodi City Council

Mayor John R. (Randy) Snider

Mayor Pro Tempore David M. Hinchman

Council Member James W. Pinkerton, Jr.

Council Member Evelyn M. Olson

Council Member Fred M. Reid

General Contractor

MODERN ENGINEERING

Dean Trachiotis - President

Bob Henning - Vice President/Secretary

Joe Bell - Superintendent

Gene Munz - Superintendent

Building Design

Architect - Arlie Preszler

Interior Designer - Miles Treaster and Associates

Structural Engineer - Vic Meyer Engineering Associates

Mechanical Engineer - Alexander Scheflo and Associates

Electrical Engineer - HCS Engineering, Inc.

Landscape Designer - Richard Bigler Associates

Project Direction

Jack L. Ronsko - Public Works Director

Dennis J. Callahan - Building & Equipment, Maintenance Superintendent

Sub-Contractors

Union Planing Mill - Wood Moldings, Case Work, Cabinets, and Conference Table
Jim's Painting and Papering - Wallpapering, Painting and Staining
John D. Wait Masonry - Front Steps and Brick Work
Muller and Vail Tile - Ceramic Tile
San Joaquin Lumber - Structural Wood and Supplies
House of Clocks - Council Chamber and Conference Room Clocks
Stockton Fire Equipment - Fire Extinguishers
Harrity Enterprises - Sliding Tackwall Unit, Toilet Partitions and Miscellaneous Items
Central Valley Hardware - Door Hardware and Locks
Risso Electric - Kitchen Appliances
Don Lawley Company - Demolition and Concrete Removal
Tex's Concrete Sawing - Concrete and Brick Cutting
Alrick Steel - Structural Steel and Handrails
C.O. Minor - Carpets and Resilient Flooring
Hulsey Roofing - Built-up Roofing
Pinasco Plumbing - Plumbing, HVAC, Sheet Metal and Fire Sprinkler System
Western Building Material - Suspended Ceilings
Allied Building Systems - Drywall and Texture
Carr Electric - Rough-in and Finish Electrical Lighting Fixtures and Emergency Lighting System
Arcade Insulation - Insulation
Sonlite Glass Company - Aluminum and Glazing
Holsinger - Council Chamber Fixed Seating
E.R. Adams, Inc. - Asbestos Removal
American Terrazzo - Terrazzo Flooring
Vernon P. Keller - Elevator Installation
Harold W. Thompson, Co. - Draperies
Walther Electric Co., Inc. - Electrical Connections on HVAC System
Quality Sound - Sound and Push Button Signal Systems
Johnson Control - HVAC Pneumatic Controls

Other Contracts

Case Construction - Hardscape Concrete and Brick Walkways
JHL Office Interiors - Chairs and Other Furniture
Cioli Brothers Landscaping - Landscaping and Sprinkler System
Alamo Alarm - Internal Intrusion Alarm
Henderson Brothers - Repair of Roof Cornice
Lodi City Employee Association - Donating Picnic Tables and Additional Concrete and Brickwork
Lodi Tent & Awning Company - Awnings on Northern and Western Entrances

Carnegie Forum Dedication Acknowledgements

Lodi Arts Commission
Nouveaux Arts String Quartet
Pastries and Punch - Irma Mierau
Floral Arrangements - Village Florists

With the laying of the cornerstone of the original Carnegie Library Building on April 17, 1909, to today's dedication as the Carnegie Forum, there began a long history of community service by a fine old building.

Like many other community institutions, Lodi's Public Library began through the efforts of a few interested, energetic individuals.

In 1928, as the city grew, increased usage of the library necessitated an addition to the original building. This included the children's room, small auditorium, and the lower stack room.

Again, the populace and city limits continued to expand and it became evident that a larger library was needed. Finally in 1979, after years of accumulating construction funds and obtaining federal government aid, the "new" Library was completed at 201 West Locust Street.

The present building remained virtually empty until today when it will again continue to serve its citizens in yet other, more expanded ways - as Chambers for the City Council, the Lodi Planning Commission, the Parks and Recreation Commission, and the Site Plan and Architectural Review Committee.

We Welcome You To Our Doors